7.3 GENERAL ADMISSION CRITERIA FOR UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMMES

- 7.3.1 (1) Undergraduate Degree Programmes
Subject to Faculty Special Regulations, the normal basic requirement for entrance to undergraduate degree programmes shall be an International General Certificate of Secondary Education (IGCSE), provided that the candidate has passed five subjects normally in not more than three examination sittings with a minimum of 25 points on the UNAM Evaluation Scale, or passed the UNAM Foundation programme with at least a C-average. The following will be taken into consideration when computing the point scores:

  - (iii) should a specific subject be a prerequisite for entry to a faculty, that subject must also be one of the five subjects counted.

Candidates with a 2 year diploma (equivalent to 240 NQA credits) from a recognized institution may be granted admission to an undergraduate degree programme, provided that the minimum entry requirement to the diploma was at least 22 points in five subjects on the UNAM Evaluation Scale with English as a Second Language grade D or better.

Undergraduate Diploma Programmes

- (3) No exemption from class attendance shall be given to a student because of employment. If a student is employed and intends to study, an official letter from the employer should be submitted. This letter should indicate the fact that the employer is aware that the student will study full-time; how many hours per week the student will be absent from work to attend classes, and that the student will be absent from work during test/examination periods.

- (4) Part-time students, who commit themselves to studies at the University of Namibia, will be expected to attend the classes, tests and examinations set down for the relevant study course. Such students should not engage in other commitments during this period, which could interfere with their studies, e.g.: job-related courses (local and abroad), out-of-town work, etc.

7.19 CELLULAR PHONES

9. REGULATIONS AND GUIDELINES FOR POSTGRADUATE PROGRAMMES

9.1 INTRODUCTION

- (1) Section 18 of the University of Namibia Act (Act No 18, 1992) makes provision for UNAM to award certificates and diplomas, and to confer Bachelor's, Master's, Doctoral Degrees, etc., as determined by Senate.
- (2) Interest towards the pursuit of postgraduate education, the necessity for it, and the significance of postgraduate training, are increasingly being realized world-wide.
- (3) Whereas, at Bachelor's degree level, the University students acquire knowledge from their lecturers and professors primarily through the chalk-and-talk method, seminars, and tutorials, at Master's degree level, the candidates undergo training on how to acquire new knowledge largely by themselves through library research, and how to create new knowledge through laboratory experiments and field research. At Doctoral level, the focus is to give the candidates ample study experience, at the end of which they will have demonstrated maturity to undertake research independently, and will have made an original and a significant contribution to new knowledge, which will be beneficial to society, in the chosen field of study.
- (4) In considering community benefits of higher (postgraduate) degree training, one notes that the training experience the postgraduate students acquire is of tremendous benefit to the learners, and to the community as a whole. This is because the training package equips them with ideas and skills on how to solve the key problems curtailing socio-economic development in the society. It is in realization of this fact that many employers today increasingly look for candidates with postgraduate training qualifications, indeed even in the less affluent countries.
- (5) During the 1960's and 1970's, the general tendency was for Africa and other Third World countries to send their first degree graduates for postgraduate training in Europe and North America. In those years, postgraduate training scholarships were readily obtainable if one had the necessary qualifications for admission. But due to a multiplicity of factors, including inflation, scholarships for postgraduate training overseas are increasingly dwindling in number. The situation is aggravated by the high postgraduate fees involved, especially for foreign students. It is also a fact that what is learnt overseas is not necessarily relevant and applicable to the local and cultural situations in Africa. Thus if Namibia is to speedily produce a critical mass of graduates in the fields of natural, economic and social sciences, in medical and agricultural sciences, etc., with relevant postgraduate training experiences, who are so much needed in the various sectors of the national economy, she must develop her own postgraduate training programmes.
- (6) The guidelines and regulations presented below are intended to guide Departments, Centres, Faculties and Institutes at UNAM towards establishing sound and well co-ordinated postgraduate programmes.

9.2 POSTGRADUATE TRAINING PROGRAMMES AT UNAM

9.2.1 POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA COURSES

- (1) UNAM makes provision for Postgraduate Diploma courses in selected fields, as recommended by UNAM's Faculties, Centres and Institutes, the Postgraduate Studies Unit, and approved by Senate.
- (2) Postgraduate Diploma courses offer specialized training, which is career-oriented. Candidates with a general undergraduate degree, who want to pursue a teaching career, would, for example, be advised to enroll for a Postgraduate Diploma course in Education.
- (3) The postgraduate Diploma courses normally have a minimum of one year duration for full-time candidates, and two years for part-time students; are taught courses (i.e., involve lectures, seminars, practicals, written tests and examinations, etc.); and also include a small independent research component.

9.2.2 MASTER'S DEGREE COURSES

- (1) Postgraduate training programmes at Master's degree level are of two types:
  - (a) Programmes whereby the Master's degree is pursued by research alone, entailing the writing of a thesis, in accordance with guidelines provided by the Postgraduate Studies Committee.
  - (b) Programmes developed by various Faculties / Centres / Institutes, involving one academic year of coursework study, followed by written examinations, and then up to one academic year of research and writing a thesis, as a partial fulfillment of the requirements for the Master's degree.
- (2) Candidates admitted to both taught and research Master's degree courses have the option of doing their Master's studies on a full time or part time basis. Full time candidates should complete their Master's degree programmes within two calendar years. Part-time students will be allowed up to three years to complete their programmes. An extension of the registration period of up to six months beyond the stipulated deadlines, may be granted by relevant committees, if valid reasons are advanced.
- (3) Heads of the various academic Departments at UNAM are requested to indicate whether they have adequate staff strength to mount Master's degree programmes by course work and/or dissertation, and also to submit names of staff members who have the necessary research and training experience to serve as supervisors for Master's degree candidates in their respective fields.
- (4) Where coursework and written examinations are involved, UNAM will adopt a course credit system in order to match with standards of Universities abroad. Under this system one unit credit will be equivalent to ten contact hours. A three credit course will thus involve 30 contact hours between the student and lecturer. An equivalent of 30 credits (inclusive of credit for the thesis) must be completed before a candidate is awarded a Master's degree. Final examinations will be written at the end of each course/module (i.e., at the end of the Semester when the course is completed).

- (5) Where experts in relevant academic fields are to be found in various Ministries and other institutions outside UNAM, such experts will be co-opted as co-supervisors of the postgraduate students. Such potential external supervisors will be encouraged to propose thesis research areas which, in their opinion, are areas of high research priority, with respect to the socio-economic needs of Namibia.

9.2.3 DOCTORAL COURSES

- (1) Doctoral study opportunities at UNAM are offered to candidates who have the necessary qualifications for admission, where the relevant Department has the necessary research facilities and infrastructure, and where sufficiently qualified and experienced academics are available and ready to offer effective supervision.
- (2) Doctoral courses at UNAM are normally undertaken by research and the writing of a dissertation. The duration of the doctoral programmes shall be a maximum of three years for full-time students, and five years for part-time students.
- (3) Heads of academic Departments of UNAM are requested to propose names of experienced academic members of staff in their fields who can effectively supervise postgraduate students, and also academically qualified persons, who could be appointed as co-supervisors of prospective doctoral students applying for admission in their Departments.

9.2.4 HIGHER DOCTORATES

- (1) UNAM also makes provision for the award of Higher Doctorate Degrees. These are awarded to scholars who have made original contributions of international standard in their respective fields of specialization.
- (2) UNAM scholars who consider themselves qualified for Higher Doctorate awards must submit their applications for their candidacy to the Dean of their respective Faculty through Heads of the relevant Departments.
- (3) The respective Faculty concerned screens the application and recommends to the Postgraduate Studies Committee whether or not, in the opinion of the Faculty, the applicant qualifies as a candidate for UNAM's Higher Doctorate.
- (4) The following Higher Doctorate degrees will be awarded:
  - (a) Doctor of Education (D.Ed.): for successful candidates in the field of Education;
  - (b) Doctor of Literature (D.Lit.): for successful candidates in the Humanities, Economic and Social Sciences, and in the Visual and Performing Arts;
  - (c) Doctor of Laws (LL.D.): for successful candidates in the field of Law;
  - (d) Doctor of Science (D.Sc.): for successful candidates in the Agricultural, Engineering, Medical and the Natural Sciences.

9.2.5 APPROVAL OF POSTGRADUATE PROGRAMMES

Before postgraduate programmes are recommended by the Academic Planning Committee (APC) and approved by the Senate, all postgraduate programmes should be considered by the Postgraduate Studies Committee to ensure that they adhere to UNAM regulations and standards of quality.

- (3) The guidelines to supervisors define what is expected of theses and dissertations, respectively.
- (4) Applicants for admission to postgraduate training programmes by research only and by coursework and thesis/dissertation shall be required to write thesis/ dissertation research proposals.

9.6 GUIDELINES ON THE TEACHING AT POSTGRADUATE LEVEL

- (1) To teach at the master’s and doctoral programme levels, a member of staff should have a doctoral degree.
- (2) Members of staff with lower qualifications but with specialized expertise can co-teach with members of staff holding doctoral degrees.

9.7 GUIDELINES ON THE SUPERVISION OF RESEARCH BY POSTGRADUATE CANDIDATES

9.7.1 INTRODUCTION

- (1) Every postgraduate candidate shall be assigned a supervisor nominated by the relevant Department and approved by Senate on recommendation by the Postgraduate Studies Committee. This shall be both for lectured and independent research courses. Where the student's research topic is multidisciplinary in nature, or where the need for additional expert supervision in the same discipline exists, or where the candidate's postgraduate training programme involves sandwich arrangements, one or more additional supervisors will be appointed.
- (2) Postgraduate student supervisors will be appointed from amongst suitably qualified members of the Faculties/ Centres.

9.7.2 GENERAL DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF POSTGRADUATE STUDENT SUPERVISORS

- (1) The supervisor should have a thorough understanding of the University's Postgraduate Regulations and Guidelines, in order to effectively guide the candidate towards attaining the stipulated standards.
- (2) As far as possible, the supervisor should be allowed to supervise postgraduate students only in his/her field of study. This will help to ensure high standards of attainment, and to avoid possible embarrassments resulting from the rejection of theses / dissertations by examiners. To supervise Master's and Doctoral level candidates adequately, the supervisor should have a doctoral degree. He/she can co-supervise with members of staff holding a lower qualification but who have specialized expertise.
- (3) The supervisor has the responsibility of knowing his/her students well, and of being familiar with whatever special problems they may have. Where the problems affect the candidate's research progress, s/he shall communicate these to the Postgraduate Studies Committee through the Head of the relevant Department and the Dean of Faculty, in good time.
- (4) Supervisors should know what is expected of them when supervising Master's degree theses and Doctoral dissertation research respectively. Thus they should understand that:
  - (a) The Master's thesis research programme is designed as a training course, whereby it is intended that the candidate will:
    - * be exposed to the fundamentals of research,
    - * acquire certain new techniques and methods of research,
    - * learn how to present the results of research in a scholarly manner, and
    - * make some contribution to knowledge.
  - (b) Because Master's candidates usually lack previous research experience, they require close and careful supervision, especially during the early stage when learning about research methodology, experimental design and research technique, and also when preparing the initial drafts of their theses.

- (5) The doctoral dissertation, unlike the Master's thesis, is a recognition of successful postgraduate research experience. The supervisor of a Doctoral student should recognize that the candidates, in most cases, will have acquired some research experience when they were Master's degree candidates. What is expected of the Doctoral candidate, is thus qualitatively and quantitatively very much more than outlined above for Master's degree candidates. Here the supervisor expects the candidate to:
- * make a distinct and original contribution to knowledge, of fact and/or theory;
  - * produce a considerable amount of original work;
  - * undertake a more critical and extensive review of the relevant literature than is the case for Master's candidates, and
  - * exercise considerably more initiative in conducting the research.
- (6) After completion of a research proposal the doctoral candidate should be able to work independently, and to be guided rather than directed by his/her supervisor. It will, nevertheless, remain the supervisor's responsibility to guide the candidate in the right direction.
- (7) During the initial phase, the supervisors have the responsibility of assisting their candidates in the formulation of appropriate postgraduate research projects. The proposed research topic must be approved by relevant Postgraduate Study Committees, through relevant Faculty Boards before the candidate formally begins to undertake his/her research.
- (8) After one year with the candidate, the supervisor shall provide an evaluation of the candidate's progress, presenting his/her assessment as to whether the candidate has the potential to produce an acceptable doctoral dissertation, or whether he/she should be advised to withdraw.
- (9) The supervisors must be able to look ahead and recognize potential impediments to the research problem in good time. They should be able to determine, through their previous research experience, what can be achieved meaningfully by their postgraduate students, within the time allocated for the study.
- (10) In order to ensure that the thesis/dissertation research proposals benefit from inputs from other academics in the Departments, every Faculty offering postgraduate courses shall, in consultation with the supervisors, arrange research seminar series, which will enable the candidates to stand on their own feet, and to think carefully about why they proposed to use approaches which they intend to adopt in their research etc.
- (11) The supervisors have the responsibility of monitoring the candidate's research progress throughout the research period. There are various methods through which they could be kept up-to-date about the candidate's research progress:
- (a) requiring the candidate to submit periodic written reports about the research findings (e.g., once every semester);
  - (b) holding regular discussions where modifications to the original research methods should be made, in view of the research findings and on areas which require new emphasis;

- (c) participation in the research seminar series suggested above, where the candidate could present any breakthroughs s/he may have made in the research, and benefit from other scholars' inputs during the discussions.
- (12) The supervisor ultimately has the responsibility of, in the end, assisting the candidate to give an appropriate title to the thesis/dissertation, and to guide him/her on the presentation of the research results in the form of a scholarly thesis/ dissertation, in accordance with the set guidelines.
- (13) Although the writing of the postgraduate thesis/dissertation is entirely the responsibility of the candidate, it is the supervisor's role to ensure that the standards set by the University are adhered to. The supervisor should:
- (a) be accessible to the candidate during the critical stage of thesis/dissertation writing;
  - (b) discuss the drafts of the thesis/ dissertation with the candidate throughout the process;
  - (c) read the candidate's thesis/ dissertation carefully and critically, indicating where improvements are needed, e.g., where there is paucity of information, and where the important findings could be published, or should be published, etc.;
  - (d) at the conclusion of the work, read the entire thesis/ dissertation, and advise whether or not it is in a form suitable for presentation to examiners; but
  - (e) should not be responsible for personally editing language usage in the thesis, or correcting typographical errors. He/she can however, point out language errors.
- (14) Towards the end of the research phase, the supervisor also has the responsibility of presenting to the Head of the relevant Department, names and addresses, as well as curriculum vitae, of experts in the candidate's research topic, who could be nominated by relevant Postgraduate Committees as external examiners for the candidate's thesis/ dissertation.
- (15) If the candidate has two or more supervisors, one of these should be appointed Chairperson of the Supervisory Committee. If the main supervisor should be away from the University for more than three consecutive months, an acting supervisor is appointed to guide the candidate in the interim.
- (16) If, in the course of the candidate's research, a situation develops whereby:
- (a) there is a breakdown in communication between the student and the supervisor;
  - (b) there are personal clashes and conflicts between the two;
  - (c) the candidate refuses to follow the supervisor's advice, both the supervisor and the candidate should report the problem in writing to the Head of the relevant Department, with a copy to the Chairperson of the Faculty Postgraduate Studies Committee for appropriate action. Where necessary a new supervisor could be appointed; the student could be discontinued from studies; the supervisor or the candidate could be warned of any weaknesses.
- (17) Since the supervisor's responsibility is so central and critical in postgraduate student research, and since the task of supervising postgraduate student research is time-consuming, it is decided that:

- (a) in order to ensure adequate supervision, a single staff member should not normally supervise more than five postgraduate candidates;
- (b) staff members' supervision responsibilities should be taken into consideration by Heads of Departments when other teaching duties are assigned.

9.8 REGULATIONS AND GUIDELINES GOVERNING THE SUBMISSION OF THESES AND DISSERTATIONS

- (1) At least three months prior to the scheduled date for the submission of the thesis/dissertation, the respective postgraduate candidates shall, through their supervisors, Departments, Faculties and Institutes, submit a notice, in writing, to the Chairperson of the Postgraduate Studies Committee, declaring their intention to submit their theses/ dissertations.
- (2) The notice shall be accompanied by an abstract of the thesis/dissertation, which shall not exceed 300/400 words, for a Master's thesis or a Doctoral dissertation, respectively. The abstract shall be a synopsis of the methodology of the research undertaken, the findings, and the major conclusions reached.

9.9 REGULATIONS AND GUIDELINES ON THE EXAMINATION OF THE SUBMITTED MASTER'S THESES AND DOCTORAL DISSERTATIONS

9.9.1 MASTER'S THESES AND DOCTORAL DISSERTATIONS

- (1) Every thesis/dissertation shall be assessed by at least two examiners in the case of Master's candidates, and at least three examiners for Doctoral candidates. At least one of the examiners in each case must be external to the University of Namibia.
- (2) The examiners shall be required to submit their detailed reports about the theses/dissertations within a period of two months from the date of receipt of the documents. If their assessments are not received within two months, new examiners may be appointed.
- (3) Each examiner shall be required to examine the thesis/ dissertation in detail, and submit his/her assessment under the following headings:
  - (a) Appropriateness of the thesis/ dissertation title. The title should be a true reflection of the content of the thesis/ dissertation.
  - (b) Completeness of the Literature Review. The literature review should lead the reader to a good understanding of what is already known about the research topic, what gaps of knowledge exist, what the study was intended to contribute, and what hypotheses guided the study. The examiners should comment on the candidate's familiarity with the literature.
  - (c) Research Methods: The examiners should also comment on the appropriateness of the research methods (and instruments, where relevant) employed in the study.

- (d) Presentation of the Results: The examiners should comment on the manner in which the findings of the study are presented. If tables of data are provided, are they reduced statistically? Are the statistical analyses appropriate? If illustrations are provided, are they of publishable quality? Is the description of the research results of adequate clarity and scholarship?
  - (e) Discussions and Conclusions: Are the conclusions clearly presented? Are they logical and supported by data? Has the candidate sufficiently indicated how his/her results compare with those of others, as cited in the literature? From the thesis/dissertation, is his/her contribution to new knowledge clearly brought out? In the case of Doctoral dissertations, is there evidence of sufficient originality? If there are weaknesses in the thesis/ dissertation, what are the shortcomings?
  - (f) Summary: The examiner should present a summary indicating whether s/he recommends the thesis/ dissertation for a postgraduate degree award, by completing the Summary Form (attached as Annex 4).
- (4) (a) Where a Master's thesis is recommended for re-writing, it must be re-submitted within 6 months.
  - (b) Where a Doctoral dissertation is recommended for re-writing, it must be re-submitted within 12 months.

9.9.2 ASSESSMENT OF PUBLISHED WORKS FOR HIGHER DOCTORATES

- (1) The work submitted to UNAM for a Higher Doctorate candidacy shall be evaluated by at least three examiners appointed by Senate on recommendation of the relevant Faculty Board and Postgraduate Studies Committee.
- (2) The job of examiners shall be to critically examine the candidate's contribution, to ascertain that:
  - (a) the work shows outstanding originality;
  - (b) the candidate's contribution to new knowledge has been substantial;
  - (c) the quality of the candidate's unifying statement is truly excellent.
- (3) Examiners for Higher Doctorates shall be selected from amongst the most highly distinguished international scholars on the subject, preferably holders of Higher Doctorates themselves.
- (4) The examiners shall be required to report on the candidate's works, recommending in definite terms, whether or not the Higher Doctorate should be awarded.
- (5) For a candidate to merit a higher doctorate award, the examiners must unanimously approve the award. In case of disagreement among the examiners, similar guidelines to those applicable to Master's and Doctoral candidates shall be followed.

9.9.3 VIVA VOCE EXAMINATIONS

- (1) In addition to writing a thesis/dissertation, the postgraduate candidates who are registered as per provisions under Regulation 9.4.3 (2), shall appear for a viva voce examination, to defend the submitted work before a panel of specialists on the subject.

- (2) The viva voce examination shall take place only after the Postgraduate Studies Committee and the Senate are satisfied that the theses/ dissertation submitted by the candidate is considered by the examiners to be of an acceptable standard.
- (3) The questions to be asked in the viva voce examination shall primarily be focused on the candidate's thesis/dissertation research area.
- (4) The members of the viva voce panel shall be so selected as to ensure that the candidate is examined by scholars who are sufficiently qualified and experienced in the research field.
- (5) The examiners of the thesis/ dissertation shall be members of the viva voce panel. The public may attend.
- (6) The Chairperson of the viva voce panel shall be a senior academic and shall be appointed by Senate on recommendation of relevant academic Boards.
- (7) The viva voce panelists shall be provided with full texts of the theses/dissertations, and also of the examiners' reports, at least two weeks before the date scheduled for the oral examination.
- (8) The function of the viva voce panel shall be:
  - (a) to ascertain that:
    - * the thesis/dissertation presented (the data, methodology, analysis and findings) is the original work of the candidate;
    - * the broader subject area in which the study is based is fully grasped by the candidate, and
    - * any weaknesses in the thesis/dissertation can be adequately clarified by the candidate, and
  - (b) to make a definite recommendation to the Postgraduate Studies Committee and Senate, as to whether the candidate be deemed to have passed or failed.
- (9) The viva voce panel shall, as far as possible, endeavour to reach an unanimous decision on the candidate's performance. Where the panelists are unable to reach a consensus as to whether the candidate passes or fails, a vote may be taken to arrive at a reasonable decision. A majority vote shall be required for passing the viva voce examination.
- (10)
  - (a) At the end of the oral examination, the panel shall sign a viva voce Examination Results Form (Annex 5) making a specific recommendation to the Postgraduate Studies Committee on the candidate's performance.
  - (b) The Chairperson of the panel shall also submit to the Postgraduate Studies Committee a comprehensive report, approved by the viva voce panelists.

- (11) In cases of disagreement amongst the viva voce panelists, the Postgraduate Studies Committee shall carefully study the case and recommend to Senate one of the following actions:
  - (a) the candidate should revise and re-submit the thesis/ dissertation, and subsequently re-appear for a further oral examination, within a specified time (but not exceeding 12 months from the date of the decision by Senate); or
  - (b) the candidate shall be deemed to have failed outright.
- (12) The duration of the viva voce shall not normally exceed three hours.
- (13) Doctoral work shall not be graded: the examination shall be on pass/fail basis only.

9.9.4 POSTGRADUATE FEES

- (1) All the registered candidates shall pay the various categories of fees as approved by the University Council on recommendation of appropriate Committees of UNAM.
- (2) The work of students whose fees are in arrears will not be assessed until the arrears have been cleared.

ANNEX 1

GUIDELINES ON THE WRITING OF RESEARCH PROPOSALS

Preamble

These guidelines have been developed for prospective postgraduate candidates, who are about to enter into the research phase of their studies, in an attempt to ensure that they embark on their research with a clear focus, and in the right direction. In preparing their research proposals, both for Master's and Doctoral work, prospective candidates should consult with Heads of relevant Departments, who will refer them to lecturers and Professors with relevant experience and expertise.

Tentative Title

The title of the thesis/dissertation research proposals should be clear and concise. From the title, one should be able to infer clearly the subject of the thesis/dissertation. This means that the title should be self-explanatory.

Introduction

A thesis/dissertation proposal should contain an Introduction, which provides background information and a setting to the problem of the proposed research. In this section the applicant reviews the key literature pertaining to the research problem, indicates what information has already been published on the subject (citing specific authors, where appropriate), what gaps of knowledge still exist, and what additional research needs to be done. Here the candidate should demonstrate that s/he has comprehensively mastered the theoretical framework of his/her thesis research area, and has clearly presented a statement of the hypotheses which will be tested in the proposed research, or which will guide the research. Often it is useful to divide the Introduction section into sub-headings such as:

- * General Introduction: identifying research concerns and defining the problem area.
- * Literature Review: focusing attention on the findings of other researchers (on the subject).
- * Statement of the Problem: including an elaboration on the significance of the problem, anticipated contribution to knowledge, and/or socio-economic progress.
- * Working Hypotheses: objectives/research questions summarizing the applicant's expected research findings, and presenting a clear rationale for each hypothesis in addition, in social sciences, objectives or research questions should be stated here.

Methods and Materials

- (1) A thesis/dissertation proposal should contain a section which gives details on the methodologies, the theoretical approaches, and the materials proposed to be used when conducting the research. A choice between qualitative and quantitative approaches should be made here.
- (2) Where relevant:
  - (i) the locations where the research will be carried out should also be stated;
  - (ii) particular instruments to be used (e.g., test, observations, interviews, questionnaires), their outlines and specifications, as well as the resources available to the candidate, should be presented;
  - (iii) if the data are to be collected through sampling, the research design and the sampling procedures should be described.
  - (iv) if standard methods will be used, full reference to them should be given. In the event that new research methods have been developed by the applicant, these should be described in sufficient detail;
  - (v) the data analysis plan, and any limitations to the proposed methods, should be indicated; and
  - (vi) the budget for the proposed research, should be indicated for sponsored research.

References

At the end of the proposal, the applicant should prepare a bibliography of the references cited in the text, following guidelines approved by the respective Departments e.g., arranging names of all the authors cited in the text in alphabetical order, and giving full details of the journals/books cited, and where and when published (including page numbers).

Duration

The applicant should state whether he/she will undertake the proposed research on full time or on a part-time basis, and whether fieldwork is involved. He/she should also present a time table showing the sequence of his/her research activities and the planned date of completing the degree programme.

Referees

The Postgraduate Studies Committee may wish to require scholars who know the applicant well to comment on his/her ability to undertake the proposed research. It is important, therefore, that the applicant includes names (and full addresses) of two or three possible referees who could give an assessment of the applicant's abilities.

Outline of Research Proposal summaries

The candidates are required to submit to the Senate 2 – 3 page summaries of their research proposals. These should include the title of the research proposal using information contained in annex 6, a statement of the problem and its significance, a brief summation of the foci of the literature in the area of study and the methodology to be used in the study (indication a clear statement of data analyzing).

ANNEX 2

REGULATIONS AND GUIDELINES FOR WRITING AND PRESENTATION OF POSTGRADUATE THESES AND DISSERTATIONS

Introduction

- (1) There are many styles of writing theses and dissertations adopted by various universities. In some, the candidate is allowed to follow the style of an international journal in his/her chosen field of study, and is allowed to publish his/her theses/dissertation research results along the way. Thus in the end, the candidate's thesis/dissertation could be a synthesis of published papers, with a unifying introduction, and a unifying discussion. In some, the candidate is allowed to arrange his/her thesis/dissertation data in the form of interrelated chapters, each chapter covering a specific sub-theme. In others, the candidate is directed to have a single Introduction, a single Materials and Methods section, a single Results section, and a single Discussion section.
- (2) Because of the wide range of subjects and areas of specialization, the methods of presenting the results cannot be absolutely uniform. However, it is important that certain key issues are standardized for a given University, to guide the Faculties and Departments, and to guide the candidates. But about the specific style to be used within the umbrella of the broad guidelines, the postgraduate candidate shall consult with his/her Department.

Broad Guidelines on Thesis/ Dissertation Manuscript Preparation

Typing/Word-processing

The thesis/dissertation must be typed or printed on good quality A4 paper. The typescript must be clear, double-spaced, and on one side of the paper. In addition, the letter size of 12 and the Times New Roman format should be used.

Pagination

The preliminaries (i.e., parts preceding the Introduction) must be in lower case Roman numerals (i.e.: (i), (ii), (iii), (iv)...), beginning with the title page. The pages in the main body of the thesis/dissertation should be numbered in Arabic numerals (i.e.: "1", "2", "3", "4"...), consecutively throughout. The page numbers should be centered in the upper margin.

Margins

Title page

The title page must be organized such that it is symmetrically arranged. The page should show the title of the thesis/dissertation in CAPITALS; should contain a statement that the thesis/dissertation is being submitted in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree mentioned; should give the year of completion of the study, and the name of the degree for which it has been submitted.

Abstract

Following the title page, the thesis/dissertation shall contain an abstract which concisely and comprehensively summarizes the essential points and conclusions emanating from the research. The abstract should, as stated earlier, not exceed 300 words in the case of Master's theses, and 400 words for Doctoral dissertations. Furthermore, it should include the purpose of the study, the methodology used and the main findings.

Table of Contents

The Table of Contents shall be analytical and refer to specific pages where each major component of the thesis/ dissertation is found. If there is a list of Tables, or a list of Figures, these should be arranged separately, but in the general format of the Table of Contents.

Acknowledgements

The thesis/dissertation shall also contain an Acknowledgements section, in which the candidates express their appreciation and gratitude to all the people and institutions which rendered help in the course of the study.

Dedication

If the candidate wishes to dedicate the thesis/dissertation to any person, the dedication should be concisely written, and should appear in the preliminaries.

Declarations

The thesis/dissertation shall also contain the various declarations as pointed out earlier (i.e., one stating that the thesis/dissertation is the candidate's original work, and that it has not been submitted for a degree elsewhere; and a declaration of copyright; see annex 3).

Body of the Thesis/Dissertation

- (a) Tables, text figures, diagrams and photographic illustrations should be numbered in separate sequence, and be cited by number in the text. Each table and figure should have a concise but comprehensive caption. The illustrations should be of publishable quality.
- (b) The text should contain a comprehensive Introduction and Literature Review, a statement of the research problem, the objectives, the hypotheses, the Materials and Methods used in the research, a description and statistical analysis of the research data, a discussion of the results, a statement on the practical applications and implications of the research findings, and possibly also suggestions for further research. There should also be a conclusion, summing up, in not more than 1 000 words, the major findings of the research. All these aspects should be presented into chapters on Introduction, Literature Review, Methodology, Results, Recommendation, and Conclusion.

Language

The presentation of the thesis/dissertation shall normally be in English. The use of a language other than English requires approval of Senate.

Literature Cited

All the literature cited in the text must be arranged in alphabetical order at the end of the thesis/dissertation, in accordance with styles used in international journals. Departments may vary in the recommended style, but there should be consistency in each case, and the candidates should consult their supervisors for the finer details. The American Psychological Association (APA) publication manual style could for instance be used.

If a candidate draws from work that s/he has published previously, it should be fully cited.

Length of Theses/Dissertation

The suggested guidelines are as follows (A4 double spacing):

- (a) Master's theses: The recommended length of a Master's thesis/dissertation should preferably be 50,000 words, but should not exceed 75,000 words.
- (b) Doctoral dissertations: The recommended length of a Doctoral dissertation should, preferably be 90,000 words, but should not exceed 150,000 words.

Submission of Theses/Dissertations

The initial submission of the thesis/dissertation shall be in two copies for Master's candidates, and four copies for doctoral candidates. These shall be in loose-bound form.

After the approval of the thesis/dissertation by the examiners, and after all the corrections recommended by the examiners have been made, five fully bound copies of the theses/dissertations shall be submitted to the Postgraduate Studies Committee. In addition, candidates should submit electronic versions of their theses/dissertation.

The colour for Master's theses shall be blue, and that for Doctoral Dissertations shall be green.

When binding the thesis/ dissertation, what would appear on the spine shall at least be the name of the candidate, the degree for which it was submitted, and the year of degree award.

ANNEX 3

SUMMARY ON THE DECLARATIONS WHICH MUST BE CONTAINED IN THE SUBMITTED THESES/ DISSERTATIONS

- (1) Every thesis/dissertation shall be accompanied by a statement declaring that the document is a true reflection of the candidate's own research, and has not been submitted for a degree in any other institution of higher learning.
- (2) The thesis/dissertation shall contain a statement of copyright, reading as follows: No part of this thesis/ dissertation may be reproduced, stored in any retrieval system, or transmitted in any form, or by any means (e.g., electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise) without the prior written permission of the author, or the University of Namibia in that behalf.
- (3) In presenting a thesis, the candidate shall be deemed by so doing to have granted the University the right to reproduce it in whole or in part, in any manner or format which the University may deem fit, for any person or institution requiring it for study and research; provided that the University shall waive this right if the whole thesis has been or is being published in a manner satisfactory to the University.

These declarations should be used in theses/dissertations as follows:

10.1 GENERAL REGULATIONS

Conducting of examinations

The duration and scope of the examinations for the different degrees, diplomas and certificates shall be determined by Senate, and be conducted under the supervision of Senate at such place, date and time as Senate may determine. Unless Senate otherwise determines, all papers for a specific module shall be written during the same examination period. A disabled candidate (e.g., blindness, physical handicap) shall be accommodated after the necessary arrangements have been made beforehand and with the approval of Senate.

10.2 EXAMINATION ADMISSION

A student who is registered for a degree, diploma or certificate course of study, has paid the prescribed fees and obtained a minimum examination admission mark of 40 %, shall be admitted to the examination unless Senate determine otherwise. All relevant students shall be furnished with departmental stipulations for the obtaining of the examination admission mark in writing (at the commencement of the academic year).

Determination of examination admission mark

The examination admission mark is determined by continuous evaluation of a student's achievement via assignments and/or practicals/seminars/tutorials, and tests during vacation schools, etc.

10.3 EXAMINING

On completion of (a) prescribed syllabus (syllabi), unless otherwise determined, examinations shall be conducted in all modules. Unless expressly otherwise determined, the examination in a module shall consist of a written examination.

Examiners and moderators

10.4 DETERMINATION OF EXAMINATION ADMISSION, EXAMINATION AND FINAL MARKS

Determination of examination admission marks

The various departments shall calculate examination admission marks before the particular examinations commence and these shall be made known to students on the dates as determined by Senate and indicated in the calendar.

Determination of examination marks

- (i) Unless otherwise stated in the respective regulations, the examination mark shall comprise the average mark of the marks obtained for each paper in a module.
- (ii) If the marks of the first and second/external examiner differ by less than 10 %, the average mark shall be taken as examination mark for that paper.
- (iii) If the marks of the first and second/external examiner differ by more than 10 %, an arbiter examiner shall be appointed. The decision by the Examinations and Promotion Committee of the Centre shall be final.

Determination of final mark

- (i) In determining the final mark, the year mark and the examination mark shall be considered. Unless determined otherwise, the weight ratio between year mark and examination mark shall be 50:50, or as determined from time to time by Senate on request of Faculties.
- (ii) The final decision regarding examination results shall rest with Senate. Results shall be announced to students in writing.

Promotion

The Examinations and Promotion Committee of the Centre shall consider and determine promotion and this shall be submitted on behalf of Senate and the Board of Studies to the Admissions and Examinations Committee for final approval.

Passing a module

In order to pass a module, a student shall obtain a final mark of at least 50 %, (unless otherwise determined by Senate), provided that:

- (ii) A sub-minimum, as determined by Senate, has been achieved per paper where an examination consists of more than one paper.

The recognition of such modules shall in each case be considered on merit and may be granted as follows:

Recognition

A module of the relevant student shall be recognized and form part of his/her curriculum. The student shall not need to sit for any further examinations or meet further requirements, but the module may not be taken on a higher level.

Crediting

A student shall be exempted from following the relevant module at the University of Namibia and obtain credit for the module. The module shall form part of his/her curriculum and may be taken on a higher level. Supplementary work may be required by a department in order to obtain full credit.

A student may be exempted from taking a module which serves as prerequisite for registration for another module, but the exempted module shall not form part of the student's curriculum.

10.6 CONFERRING OF STATUS

If a student would like to register for further study for which the possession of a certificate, diploma or degree is a prerequisite, but where such a certificate, diploma or degree has not been obtained at a recognized institution or by means of a recognized course of study, Senate may, as the case may be, admit such student to the prospective further study. Such admission will be based on the basis of a certificate, diploma or degree obtained at such institution or on the basis of such other studies, as well as in cases where a certificate, diploma or degree has been obtained at a recognized institution elsewhere or locally and where the qualification has been obtained in one faculty and a further qualification has to be obtained in another faculty.

B. COUNSELLING SERVICES

The overall well-being of the students depends on the support system in the counselling office, whether it be social, psychological, health, spiritual, intellectual, emotional, career, environmental or physical.

The Student Counselling Services in the Office of the Dean of Students can be seen as the backbone of student development. Students need to understand that they are part of a bigger structure which include the International World. They are confronted daily with decision-making, as well as to make choices such as, drug and alcohol abuse, Aids and HIV, pre-marital sex, subject choices and social socialization. One cannot imagine the negative effect, wrong decision-making can have on their wellness.

How can counselling help?

Counselling is not about giving advice, telling people what to do or passing judgements. It does, however, offer the chance to reflect on your situation and explore, with a professional counsellor, the thoughts and feelings you have about yourself, particularly within the context of the University life.

He or she will see a student in the first instance to assess the specific needs. One session may be enough, or a student may continue to attend for one-to-one counselling or join one of the counselling groups which the Service runs.

The Service, which is quite an independent department, offers counselling at the Office of the Dean of Students.

Why do people need counselling?

Students are faced with different types of problems during their University life. Typical problems are stress, uncertainty or depression which can interfere with their academic life.

Common problems that are presented to Counsellors are:

- ❖ Career Guidance
- ❖ Difficulties in coping academically
- ❖ A desire to know themselves better
- ❖ A vague sense of loneliness, 'rootless-ness', isolation or disconnectedness, perhaps because of cultural differences
- ❖ Moods or unaccountable feelings (e.g. of sadness, depression, fear, anger or thoughts of suicide / self harm)
- ❖ Sexual/racial or other harassment
- ❖ Preoccupation with body image, perhaps leading to eating disorders
- ❖ Issues to do with self-esteem, self-confidence, under achievement
- ❖ Bereavement and loss
- ❖ Concerns about relationships with partners, parents and other family members
- ❖ Sexual issues, for example sexual abuse, unplanned pregnancies, uncertainty over sexual orientation
- ❖ Addictions, for example to alcohol, drugs, gambling, non-stop video or computer games.

Please note that all counselling cases are always treated in the utmost confidentiality.

The student counselling service provide a variety of services for UNAM students through the offices of the Social Worker, Placement Officer and Professional Nurse. These services include career guidance, academic and personal counselling , spiritual guidance and -counselling.

C. CHAPLAINCY

The role of the Chaplain at the University of Namibia is to help students and to encourage the spiritual well-being of the University community both collectively and individually.

An important part of this is represented by the spiritual and pastoral care which is offered on a personal and confidential basis to students.

Social events also feature in the Chaplaincy and it involves itself and members of the Fellowship of Christian Movements (FCM) in supporting a variety of charities in the Namibian society such as the Moira Grace Children's Home in Katutura in Windhoek.

The Chaplaincy also forms part of the student counselling services in the Office of the Dean of Students. This service provides support for students and works closely with student organizations and colleagues in related fields.

The Chaplaincy places high values on reporting on its work in a variety of ways to all of its stakeholders.
